Hale Becomes a Potentate.

Major H. C. Hale, with three com-panies of the Forty-fourth infantry, has become potentate of the island of Bohol by peaceful conquest. Bohol is a third as large as the neighboring island of Panay, but had no armed insurgents. It had, however, a very complete and efficient little republic of its own, which formed a part of the revolutionary government. When the troops landed at the principal town a body of local officials appeared and saved. handed to their new ruler a document which set forth that the inhabitants could not offer allegiance to the United States because that was forbidden by "the honorable Emilio Aguinaldo, president of the Filipino republic, and the lawful head of the state;" that Major Hale should secure first Aguinaldo's permission, then the Boholenes would agree to the occupation. But, the address continued, the islanders were unarmed, and in view of their poverty resulting from long blockade, could not be expected to attempt resistance. Therefore the president and congress of the republic of Bohol resolved, first to avoid anything which might be viewed as provocation; second, to allow the commander of the United States military expedition to carry out his orders without interference; third, to carry on the native civil government with the laws which were received from the Filipino republic and to do everything necessary in the interests of law and order, peace and harmony.

Major Hale installed the insurgent ofbut insisted upon the removal from the public building of its principal ornament, a big painting of Aguinaldo, He has begun many public improvements, started schools and new roads, but the Bohlenos remain true to their first Bohlenos remain true to their first Bohlenos remain true to their first but insisted upon the removal from the public building of its principal ornament, and public building of ing in all the villages and only lower it who a company of American soldiers comes along. Aguinaldo's Premier Dying. Apolinario Mabini, the premier of Aguinaldo's cabinet, who is not only the most able among the leaders of the insurrection, but almost the only one whose honesty has never been questioned, is dying. Mabini remains in an American prison in Manila because has nowhere else to go. Before the revolution he was a wealthy man, as riches are rated in the Philippines, but it will do the most good, accessible to the Indians and not in some out-of-the-way place where it would be crippled It is now two years since Senator Joseph L. Rawlins and Congressman W. H. King, after hard work, succeeded in getting an appropriation of $25,000 from the federal government for an Indian school to be located in Washington county. Naturally there was a strife between different localities for the location of the school, but the people of the county generally agreed that it should be located either at St. George, on the Washington field, adjoining the grounds of the state horticultural experiment station, or at Middleton. Those who were opposed to the school have been trying to kill it in two ferent ways. One of these was to pre-vent the establishment of the school altogether; the other was to have it located in some place where it would be sure to prove a failure. Miss Work's Actions.

It was Robertson who introduced the ordinance which placed the duties of these two offices in the health department. This was treason to Republicanism as she is preached and practiced by Thompson, Eichnor, Lannan & Co. They are out for the pie. This system of Robertson, Buckle, Gemmell and Beatty interfered with the distribution of pie.

Among this latter class the people of Washington county place Miss Laura B. Work, the present Indian teacher. She has conducted an Indian school in that community for the past three years, and although she has been hampered as to means and limited in her Upon receipt of the above, Secreary Long sent the following cablegram to Admiral Remey at Manila:

The Washington county people con-sider one thing as definitely settled, so university management and inspecting look upon themselves as prisoners, and run off whenever possible.

One Successful School. On the other hand, the great success of the Indian school at Phoenix, Ariz., is pointed to as the result of following the right principle in this particular regard. The Arizona school is said to be the most successful Indian school in the country, and a great measure of its success is attributed by close stu-Thomasville, Ga., June 11.—Senny dents of the Indian nature to the fact that the children and their parents are
